BREADSTUPPS—NO particular change in breadstuffs since our last.

Corron—The caquiry to-day was moderate, and a disposition was evinced by holders to realize. The sales amount to 700 bales, chiefly to spingers, at easier rates.

HAY—Common qualities North layer bale sell at 35 a 37½c. With good receipts, the demand continues very limited.

20WHISKEY—Drudge casks are still held at 28c, with a very limited demand. Prison and western barrels we quote at 27 a 27½c. There is very little doing in either description.

Montender Sept. 21.—The quantity of flour received is near 20,000 bbls, and prices have gradually given way. The Catherine's cargo was placed at 63 putacons on board, deliverable at Colonia; the John W. Gossler's cargo at 157, to nett $5.00; that per King Phillip proceeded on to Buenos Ayres unsold; the Brezileire's at 17.2, to nett $5.00. The John Cerver's hes been landed in deposit. The Nautilui has taken on 1,400 bbls, to Buenos Ayres; a part of what she landed was sold at 100, to nett $5.10. The Odessa's cargo, we understand, has been sold, but are ignorant of the prices. 1,400 bbls, from Rio de Janeiro, by a Brezillian and French vesses, have been landed in deposit, and 600 bbls per Brem. brig Helena, have just arrived from New York. The stock we estimate at 17,600 bbls independent of 1,000 begs wheat from Velparsiso, Fresh supplies to the extent of 5,000 or 6,000 bbls, are on the way, and shappers will necessarily have to submit to heavy sacrifices in the absence of all competition. Rice—The supplies have been limited, and the article is in demand; good quality, we think, would readily commend 3; cents per lb nett. Beef and Pork—The demand for sait beef has fallen off. Last seles, 116, to nett $8.00; salt pork, 124, to nett $13. Hams—We quote at 130 rs, to nett 9; cents per lb. Butter will not command over 160 rs, or 10 cents per lb nett. Lard can be sold at the same rate, and nett 11; cents per lb. Cheese is not worth over 140 to 150 rs. to nett 910 9; cents per lb. Codfish—We are still without any supplies of this article, and a small quantity would no doubt command $6.00 nett. Ten—Last sales of gunpowder were made at 7 ris or 50 cents nett. Sugur—Havana white, 21 ris, 6 cents; brown, 16 ris, 42 cents; refined, 26 rls, 74 cents per lb. Cheese is not worth over 5 cts seles 10 st. Sper Datt. Sperm Candles—There have been lately several arrivals, and the demand being supplied, prices have given way; they may possibly bring 4; rls, per lb. to nett 35 cents. Lumber can be sold to tent 125. HALSTED'S MEDICAL INSTITUTE.

AT ROCHESTER N.Y.

DR. HALSTED informs his friends and patrons that he has removed to No. 299 Buffalo street, where he will he happy to receive calls from his friends, and those who wish to visit his Institution to see his patients, who are under treatment for Spinal Curvatures, and other Chronic Diseases. Having heretofore turned off many who have applied, for the want of room, he now informs them and others, that he is prepared to accommodate from the highest elevation of land in the city, and for beauty of scenery it is unsurpassed. It contains a view of ten miles around. His well affords the best of pure water. His grounds are pleasant for walking and promending. He has a Gymnasium—a hell for playing ten pins, grace, and other amusing games, which are very de-irable for those who have carved spines, or those public and delicate patients who have carved spines, or those public and delicate patients who have carved spines, or those public and delicate patients who have carved spines, or chose public and delicate patients who have carved spines, or chose public and delicate patients who have carved spines, or chose public and served of the Lake and surrounding country. His institution is one mile from the center of the city.

With all of the above facilities and edvantages, he flatters himself that his success will even exceed his former efforts.

SPINAL DEFORMITIES.

The Physicians who examined some of my patients who had spinal deformities on entering my Institution, are informed that these patients are cured, and are in perfect shape and health, and are about to leave. I solicit a call from them, that they may satisfy themselves as to the practicability of curing Spinal Curvatures.

N. B.—I have in constant operation an Electro Magnetic Armature, which reduces muscular contractins, and facilitates the cure of Spinal Diseases, in about one half of the time that it ordinarily takes to reduce them by any other mems. With the said of this Armature, (which, by the way, cures all Spinal Deformities and self-deformatics when, first forming) and my Spring Elevator, together with my Extender, Inclined Places, Pully Swings, and Elistic Bundages, I am curing Spinal Deformities in a rapid manner of themselves.

N. B.—The above plate represents one lady, among the many, who has been restored to perfect shape and health within one half of the time that is required in any other Institution in America. So much for the march of improvement in this, lass of diseases. Please preserve this paper and send it to an afflicted friend.

of di eases. Tlease preserve this paper and send it to an afflicted freind.

DOCTOR HUNTER'S RED DROP puts all competition at dehance. The qualities of this article are different from all other medicines sured for private disaness. The proof of its having quired in thousands of cases in the city of New York, gives it such success that we stand now on an eminence from all others. We caution the public to be careful of nostrains, got up every day for the purpose of gulling them, and of mountebusks taking their money without doing them any service. If there are any who doubts the efficacy of this medicine let them call at the Hunter is an Dispensary, at 3 Division street, where certificates of cures can be seen, some of 18 years standing, and the most astonishing on record. Price $1 per vial, with full directions, and warranted to cure or no charge.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26, 1844.

PHILADELPHIA, NOV. 26, 1844.

Every thing in this wayward city is settling down into quiet, business, pleasure, and social enjoyment, with the exception of the fragments of excitement that remain among the coteries of politicians, like the waifs on the sea shore on Long Island after an Atlantic gale. The friends of Mr. Clay in Philadelphia lay the principal blame upon their coadjutors in New York for the loss of his election.—They mourn over him with the most extraordinary pathos and sentiment, and insist that they will support no man but him in 1818, believing that if the whig party remain true to their position and their principles, without any amalgamation with any other faction, be it liberty men or natives, they will yet carry the country in 1848.

There is certainly some plausibility in this view, for nothing but the most untoward accident prevented Mr. Clay from being elected this year.

As to the democrats, they are already beginning to quarrel for the spoils, and for the succession.—Mr. Dal'as is in a curious position. He is already watching the movements of the sections, "asyou call them, and will make his calculations to play netween both, so as to form a party of his own out of the capital of Pennsylvania. I am very much disposed to think, notwithstanding all they say of the firmness and sagacity of Mr. Polk, that he will become the shuttlecock and sport of the Northern and Southern tactions, as poor Tyler has been of the efforts of the Wall street brokers te get up a panie. Money is getting plenty—no better evidence of this is to be seen than the crowds attending the theatres and other public amusements. The old aristocracy of Philadelphia broke down, and disappeared with the United States Bank—but a new set—and new coterias, have risen up of late years, who, without the grace and refinement of their predecessors, have more liberality, money, and bon-hommic. All the theatres here are crowded nightly almost. Anderson, that you have cracked up so high in New York, opened last night at Chesnut street

Mexican News-Extension of Commercial Inter-course with Interior South America-Swedenbor-gian Church-President's House-Washington Itself-Inauguration Ball-The Procession-Congress Messes.

AMES G. BENNETT, Esq.:-

JAMES G. BENNETT, Esq.:—
The news of the refusal of the Mexican Congress to supply funds to invade Texas, will advance the question of annexation, and it is probable that Santa Anna, in return for this deteat of his measure, may waive further objection, and thus deprive the opponents of annexation of any argument on the score of trouble with foreign powers. But trouble or no trouble, the annexation is as certain as that John C. Calhoun is Secretary of State, or John Tyler in the White House with his blooming bride.

The expanded views of the master spirit of this administration, on the subject of the extension of our commercial intercourse throughout the world, will be shadowed forth through the message of Prezident Tyler, as no special report emanates from the office of Secretary of State. The provinces and republies of South America—their immeuse products and advantages that could accrue to this country by an extension of trade in that region, will be pointedly exhibited, and none, better than yourselt, can more effectually present a full and concise view of this interesting subject.

The churches of this city are fully and fashionably attended on the Sabbath, but none of the congregations create so much excitement as that of the "Swedenborgians" or the church of the new Jerusalem, to which you are aware the most celebrated, learned and scientific of the age are elsewhere attached.

The prominent leaders here at present, are Richard K. Cralle, Esq., chief clerk in the State Pepartment; a Thomas Smith, chief clerk in the Navy Department; Jucge Cranch, and others.—Their articles of faith are based upon perfected moral principles of the highest and most intellectual order, as inculcated in the word of God, and intelligence, science and purity of character form the distinguishing objects of their creed. The congregation is yet small, but must increase rapidly, as soon as Congress convenes. Their mode of worship is similar to that of the Protestant Church, but not so tedious in detail or ceremony. Their movements have already excited the utmost attention among other congregations, who view their encroachments with that peculiar generosity of character so celebrated among sectarian leaders, and so much in accordance with the divine pri may waive further objection, and thus deprive the character so celebrated among acctarian leaders, and so much in accordance with the divine principles of charity and love as promulgated by the Savior of the world.

The furniture in the President's House is a disgrace—a contemptible disgrace to the nation.—Many of the chairs in the East Room would be kicked out of a brothel, and the carpet is patched, darned, and worn perfectly threadbare, as it has been in use, I believe, since the organization of the Van Buren administration. The chairs have been covered once since Mr. Monioc's time, and the upholsterer then relieved the cushions of a part of their curled contents, which has caused a perfect explosion of every prominent point that presents contact with the outer garments of the visiters. An immediate appropriation should be made to render the house respectable for the reception of those who come to Washington to be improved in manners, taste, and knowledge.

This Washington is a strange place, a great place, a rich place and a poor place, covering an immense area, with thirty thousand inhabitants, living mainly upon and from the public crib, and who appear to have no more idea of helping hemselves to any thing else, except treasury pap, than if they were helpless and infirm. They have no enterprise—not even enough to own a ton of shipping—although their neighbors above them on the Potomac, carry on quite an extensive coasting trade. if they were helpless and infirm. They have no enterprise—not even enough to own a ton of shipping—although their neighbors above them on the Potomac, carry on quite an extensive coasting trade. You will be surprised when I tell you that a load of marble, ordered from New York to construct the fountains in the capitol yard, was taken all the way up to Georgetown, immediately past this city, landed there and then brought back here by horses, oxen and negroes, at an expenditure of nearly as much money as the original cost of the article and freight to Georgetown. This is the way that the money goes—and at the same time the advantages for landing and receiving cargoes at the wharves in this city are superior to that of Georgetown. Not an article of produce or manufactures is brought from other ports, destined for this city, that is not taken up to Georgetown, two miles above, or left at Alexandri, seven miles below, and afterwards transported here by steamboat, negro or horsespower. We understand that arrangements are making to wake up the Rip Van Winkle spirit that has so long existed, and establish a line of packets between this port and New York. This new movement and the completion of the Cumberland Canal by the government will make Washington a place of some commercial note at a future day.

Considerable excitement has been created here, relative to the "Inauguration Bail," as an attempt was made by some few interested individuals to make it a matter of private speculation. This was the case with the "Harrison Bail," but will be prevented on this occasion. The management should be entrusted to a committee of citizens and members of Congress—the subscriptions obtained by them—the price fixed at five dollars the ticket—preparations made for the enjoyment and comfort of three thousand ladies and gentlemen, and the eatertainment placed in the hands of some one of our public hotel proprietors, whose liberality and character would easure the most profuse supply of all that sease, appetite and heart could desire. Su

The old practice of "Congress messes" will be nearly abolished this winter, as the hotels, and especially "Coleman's," present all the comforts that they have been so long without, the lack of which caused the origin of "messing."
